CONTENTS

About the Author vii
Acknowledgements viii

INTRODUCTION 1

Introduction 1
Phases, Generations, Paradigms 4
Normative Political Philosophy and Social Theory 9
'Critical Theory' and 'Radical Thinkers' 12
Syntheses and Problematiques 16
Contradictions and Social Conflicts 21

1. A NEW NEXUS OF SOCIAL CHANGE 25

Introduction: Collective Self-Determination and Critical Social Theory 25
Globalization and Democracy 27
Global Modernities and the Movements of Critique 35
From Organized Modernity to the Postnational Constellation 39
Democratization and Transnational Solidarity 44
Conclusion 49
Excursus: Alter-Globalization and Anti-Austerity Protests 51

2. FROM THE CRITIQUE OF OBJECTIFICATION TO THE RECONCEPTUALIZATION OF ALIENATION 59

Introduction 59
Objectification and its Critique 61
Supplements, Syntheses and Synonyms 68
Towards a Reconceptualization of Alienation 77
Two Contrasting Forms of Malaise 85
Conclusion 88

3. SYSTEM INTEGRATION AND SOCIAL DISINTEGRATION 90

Introduction 90
Exclusionary Integration: Genealogies and Misalignment in the Third Modernity 92
Social Disintegration and Social Contestation: Reification, Racism and Retribution 99
Conclusion: The Globalization of the Lifeworld and its Variegated Displacements 102

4. THE END OF IMMANENT CRITIQUE? 104

Introduction 104
Immanent Critique: Method and History 105
Postmodernism, Risk Society and Globalization 109
Conclusion: New Synthesis and Capitalist Modernity 118

5. POSITIVE LIBERTY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE 123

Introduction 123
Social Justice and Positive Liberty 126
Discourse Theory and the Struggle for Recognition 129
Recognition and Redistribution: Complementary or Competing Conceptions 135
Conclusion 140

6. SOCIAL FREEDOM AND SOCIAL AUTONOMY 143

Introduction 143
Normative Reconstruction and Pathological Freedom 144
The Institution of Social Freedom 147
Spheres of Democratic Ethical Life 154
The Dialectic of Control and Social Autonomy 160
Conclusion 169

CONCLUSION 171

Bibliography 179
Index 203