

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	viii
Preface	xi
Konrad H. Jarausch
Introduction: Migration, Memory, and Diversity in Germany after 1945	1
Cornelia Wilhelm
Part I: Postwar Migrations: History, Memory, and Diversity
Chapter 1
The Commemoration of Forced Migrations in Germany	15
Martin Schulze Wessel
Chapter 2
A Missing Narrative: Displaced Persons in the History of Postwar West Germany	32
Anna Holian
Chapter 3
Inclusion and Exclusion of Immigrants and the Politics of Labeling: Thinking Beyond "Guest Workers," "Ethnic German Resettlers," "Refugees of the European Crisis," and "Poverty Migration"	56
Asiye Kaya

Chapter 4

- Refugee Reports: Asylum and Mass Media in Divided
Germany during the Cold War and Beyond 86
Patrice G. Poutrus

Part II: Institutional Responses to Migration and Cultural Difference*Chapter 5

- History, Memory, and Symbolic Boundaries in the Federal Republic of Germany: Migrants and Migration in School
History Textbooks 111
Simone Lässig

Chapter 6

- Representations of Immigration and Emigration in Germany's Historic Museums 155
Dietmar Osses and Katarzyna Nogueira

Chapter 7

- Archival Collections and the Study of Migration 176
Klaus A. Lankheit

Chapter 8

- Thinking Difference in Postwar Germany: Some
Epistemological Obstacles around "Race" 206
Rita Chin

Part III: Reconsidering History, Memory, and Identity in the Postunification Period*Chapter 9

- Nationalism and Citizenship during the Passage from the Postwar to the Post-Postwar 233
Dietmar Schirmer

Chapter 10

- Learning to Live with the Other Germany in the Post-Wall
Federal Republic 256
Kathrin Bower

Chapter 11

- Conflicting Memories, Conflicting Identities: Russian Jewish
Immigration and the Image of a New German Jewry 276
Karen Körber

Chapter 12

- Swept Under the Rug: Home-grown Anti-Semitism and Migrants as “Obstacles” in German Holocaust Remembrance 297
Annette Seidel-Arpaci

- Afterword: Structures and Larger Context of Political Change in Migration and Integration Policy: Germany between Normalization and Europeanization 323
Holger Kolb

- Index 337